

Dear Steve,

Your distribution of Yachting Pages here in Mallorca appears to have been very well organised. They seem to be everywhere. But what most impressed me was a call I received from a Captain who had just sailed out of Granada in the Caribbean who said he got my number from a copy of Yachting Pages he had just picked up from the local chandlery.

Well done.

Fred

We only serve up our finest selection

When it comes to finding the right candidates to fill your crew vacancies, you'll find that we have one of the best stocked cellars in the business.

But numbers are no substitute for quality, so you'll be pleased to know that our recommendations are made only if candidates impress us enough to be called 'premier crew'. Years of personal experience have given us a real understanding of what makes life on board run smoothly. We pride ourselves on making sure we find the right sort of people for a particular post, so time and money are not wasted... you could say we have a 'nose' for it!
